HAS BEEN BOUND OVER

Inquest Over the Murdered Mexican.

A BOND OF $500 REQUIRED

Testimony Received This Morning By Judge Ellis On the Killing of Fernandez Cuedas By Filemon Fierro.—Habeas Corpus Proceedings Possible.

Filemon Fierro, the Mexican who is charged with the murder of Hernan Cuedas, at Longhorn, a station 17 miles north on the E. P. & N. E. road, last Sunday, was brought up before Justice Ellis this morning for a preliminary hearing.

After being informed that his statement would be used against him as evidence before the higher courts, he said that he wanted to make a statement.

In substance he said that he went to Longhorn to get a drink of water. When he reached the barrels which contained the water he said that a man named Jose Soto, who was living in a cabin close by, motioned for him to come over. He went, and there he met Cuedas. He pulled out his pistol, a 32-calibre, and Cuedas wanted to see it. He showed it to him and in taking it back the revolver exploded, killing Cuedas. He said that the reason he tried to escape was because he heard the section foreman say that he was going to kill him. When overtaken he said that he surrendered without a fight and went back to the cabin of the section boss where he was tied to await the arrival of the officers.

JOSE SOTO TESTIFIES.

Jose Soto was next placed on the stand and testified that Fierro came to his cabin Sunday last just as they were getting ready to eat. Fierro was invited to partake of the spread, which he did. After they got through eating Soto went about cleaning up while Fierro and Cuedas indulged in a friendly conversation. After a short time a shot was heard and Cuedas ran from the house with both hands over his heart and screaming. Fierro also left the house and started to run. Soto summoned help at the section house and Fierro was captured a short ways off and brought back. When asked if the deceased had possession of the revolver

Whip cream and stir in grape-nuts. The result is a light, puffy cloud of delicacy which holds the brittle crisp granules of the grape-nuts in suspension and makes a charming dish when served and one the guests will not quickly forget the fascination of.

Grape-nuts you know are a breakfast food found at any first-class grocery. This food is made of wheat and barley prepared by processes that bring out the grape sugar from which the name is taken. Many like "Fleece" made up for breakfast.

MAXWELL
IN THE CITY

Stops Here Over Night On Way to Hillsboro

PRINCIPAL WITNESSES

Defense Is Anxious For His Testimony —Says He Is Not Afraid To Go Up on the Witness Stand.—Has Been Ill At White Oaks.—Says He Entered Into No Contract With the Prosecution.

John C. Maxwell, who is wanted as a witness for the territory in the trial of Oliver Lee and Jim Gilliland at Hillsboro, was arrested in Alamogordo by Deputy Sheriff Latham and brought to El Paso last night by Deputy Sheriff Ben Williams, of Las Cruces. They stopped at the Sheldon last night to avoid any publicity and left on the north bound Santa Fe this morning for Hillsboro.

Maxwell was seen by a representative of the HERALD and said: "No sir, there is no truth whatever in the report that I was afraid to go to Hillsboro to give what evidence I had in the case. I have been sick for a couple of weeks, as Dr. Lane of White Oaks, will testify, and I am far from being well at present. I am going to tell the truth, and in doing so I am taking no chances."

Maxwell is an interesting character of the western type of man. He came to this country many years ago and has since led a roving life. At the time of the Fountain disappearance Maxwell was employed at the V. V. ranch near Lincoln run by a Scotch syndicate. He was at Dog Canyon at the time in company with Bud Smith and Joe Wingfield in search of some horses. He left there on Sunday morning, the 2nd of February, 1897, and came to Tularosa and told three different parties that Oliver Lee, Jim Gilliland and Billy McNew were all at Dog Canyon, and that he slept with McNew the Saturday night previous.

It is said that he once worked for Oliver Lee, but this is known to be untrue.

Maxwell is charged with having entered into a written contract with Pat Garrett and Charley Perry for the sum of two thousand dollars to furnish evidence which would convict Lee and his associates.

Maxwell when asked about the making of this contract with Pat Garrett, whereby he was to receive two thousand dollars for forged testimony, said that it was absolutely untrue.

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT
